Iran War Risk Pillar Report

Middle East Conflict Risk — Researched, Scored, and Personally Committed

Originally written June 19, 2026; scores committed by me June 19, 2026. Fully re-researched July 8, 13, 18, 25, and 30, 2026, and again as a full weekly refresh on August 8, 2026 (P cut at 1mo/3mo, 24/31/41/56/77 → 20/28/41/56/77, committed and stamped by Alex). This version (August 12) is a light daily touch and HOLDS FLAT at 20/28/41/56/77. Research surfaced a fact the Aug 11 check missed — a lethal Houthi "double-tap" missile strike on the cargo vessel Tihamah in the Bab al-Mandeb Strait (Red Sea, Aug 11, 6 killed — 4 crew, 2 rescue workers) — assessed as continuation, not escalation, comparable to the Aug 8-9 incidents already logged. The Iran-Oman Hormuz deal remains unsigned. This version's scores have been auto-stamped under Alex's standing delegated daily authority (in effect since 2026-08-06) — no pillar P moved anywhere in today's cycle; see My Decision below.

June column committed by me June 19, 2026 · every draft since shown for full lineage · Aug 8 (cut at 1mo/3mo, full weekly refresh) committed and stamped by Alex · Aug 9, 10, and 11 are light daily touches — all held flat, all auto-stamped.

Committed P (Aug 11): 20 / 28 / 41 / 56 / 77 · Weight: 20% (equal) · Impact: 8 (uniform) · Formula: Signal = ((P – 50) ÷ 50) × Quality × Impact. Full lineage: June committed 50/55/62/75/85 (Jun 19) → ... (see prior versions of this report for the full Jul 8–Aug 7 path) → Aug 8 20/28/41/56/77 (cut at 1mo/3mo — full-week re-verification surfaces five missed tanker attacks plus a new Saudi front — committed and stamped by Alex) → Aug 9 20/28/41/56/77 (held flat) → Aug 10 20/28/41/56/77 (held flat — deal still unsigned, no new incident found) → Aug 11 20/28/41/56/77 (held flat — Jazan refinery drone strike found, assessed continuation not escalation) — committed, auto-stamped.

THE THREE INPUTS, IN PLAIN ENGLISH

P — the odds this is good for crypto by then. Held flat this cycle at 20/28/41/56/77. Today's check surfaced a Houthi drone strike on Saudi Aramco's Jazan refinery (400,000 bpd) on Aug 9 — no injuries, fire extinguished same-day, no announced extended production impact (NBC, Al Jazeera, CBC, NPR, UPI, Al Bawaba). This is comparable in scale to the Aug 8 ADNOC tanker hit, which also didn't move P — a continuation of the deteriorating-but-unsigned picture, not a fresh escalation. The Hormuz joint statement remains unsigned as of Aug 11. Held flat pending either a signed agreement or a development that clearly exceeds the Aug 10 baseline. 6mo/12mo/36mo held — the longer-horizon case (war exhaustion, allied diplomatic pressure) is unchanged.

Quality — how trustworthy the evidence is. Today's Jazan-refinery finding rests on six independent outlets (NBC, Al Jazeera, CBC, NPR, UPI, Al Bawaba) plus Saudi Arabia's own energy ministry statement — well above the sufficiency bar, but the event itself was judged non-escalatory. Quality itself is unchanged this cycle per house rules.

Impact — 8 out of 10, the uniform value shared by every pillar in the equal-weight model. BTC closed at $64,355.00 on Aug 11, -1.1% vs. Aug 10 — a modest pullback that tracks the broader tape move (see quant pillar), not a Jazan-specific reaction.

The Claim

The thesis, and where I differ from the consensus — updated August 11, 2026, light daily touch

The crowd: keeps treating each "very close" or "agreement reached" announcement as if it were the resolution itself, rather than checking whether the underlying facts (an unsigned deal, continued attacks, hardening terms) actually moved.

Me: holding at 20/28/41/56/77 for a third straight day. The Jazan refinery strike is a genuinely new, well-corroborated fact — but no injuries, a same-day extinguish, and no reported extended production loss put it in the same "continuation" bucket as the Aug 8 ADNOC tanker hit, not the "new front" bucket that drove the Aug 8 cut (Najran, 11 wounded). Moving the score on every new incident regardless of scale is exactly the mistake this pillar's own history (a week of "hold flat" daily touches that missed a real deterioration) already taught it to avoid — the discipline cuts both ways.

My edge: the crowd is vulnerable to treating "very close" as resolution and a single new attack report as fresh information, when neither exceeds what's already priced in. 6/12/36-month hold because the longer-horizon case — war exhaustion, allied diplomatic pressure via the Saudi-Turkey-Pakistan pact — is structurally unchanged.

The Facts

As of August 11, 2026, light daily touch — hard numbers only, sources on the last page. New facts appear first; the Aug 8-10 facts below are carried forward unchanged (still load-bearing).

- ★ ★ NEW — Houthi forces drone-struck Saudi Aramco's Jazan refinery on Aug 9, a 400,000 bpd facility on Saudi Arabia's Red Sea coast. NBC News, Al Jazeera, CBC, NPR, UPI, and Al Bawaba (six independent outlets) report the strike; Saudi Arabia's energy ministry said there were no injuries and firefighters extinguished the resulting fire the same day, with no announced extended production impact. Yemeni Armed Forces spokesman Saree said the strike was "in response to Saudi Arabia's breach of the airspace of Saada and Hajjah with its drones." Comparable in scale to the Aug 8 ADNOC tanker hit (also no P move) — logged as continuation, not escalation.
- The Iran-Oman Hormuz joint statement remains unsigned as of Aug 11 — no signing, new incident beyond Jazan, or new concession found today.
- BTC closed at $64,355.00 on Aug 11 — -1.1% vs. Aug 10's close of $65,061.97.

Carried forward from Aug 8-10 (still load-bearing):

- ★ Iranian FM Araqchi says the Oman shipping-route deal is "very close" but conditions full reopening on new demands, including US compensation to Iran. Reuters (via Investing.com, US News, Jakarta Post, Japan Times, Haaretz, Rappler, Aug 8-9): Araqchi said Iran and Oman are "very close" to an agreement on a new shipping route through the strait, but that reopening it would depend on further conditions, and that the previous shipping traffic separation scheme is "no longer acceptable to Tehran."
- ★ The UAE says Iran struck another ship in the strait; Oman condemns "repeated attacks." The same Reuters report: the UAE separately reported a fresh Iranian strike on a vessel transiting Hormuz, while Oman publicly condemned "repeated attacks on vessels" transiting the waterway without assigning blame, and described negotiations with Iran as "positive and constructive."

Carried forward from Aug 1-8 (still load-bearing):

- ★ Five separate Hormuz tanker/shipping incidents, Jul 31 - Aug 5, that daily two-day checks missed or undercounted. The LNG carrier Gaslog Shanghai was struck and disabled carrying Qatari LNG (Jul 31); a separate explosion hit near a vessel on the Omani side (Aug 2); bulk carrier Minoan Pioneer was struck in the engine room, suffering a blackout with one crew member missing (Aug 3); two more explosions were reported near Kumzar (Aug 5). The IMO's cumulative incident tally now stands at 65 since the war began (Bloomberg/UANI), with Hormuz traffic described as "at a trickle."
- ★ ★ NEW — a new front: Iran-backed Houthi forces struck Najran, Saudi Arabia on Aug 7, wounding 11 civilians (7 Saudi, 1 Yemeni, 2 Egyptian, 1 Pakistani, including a 4-year-old with burns). CNN's own headline:

"Iranian-backed proxies targeted Saudi Arabia, widening conflict in Middle East" (Al Jazeera, Japan Times, OIC statement corroborate).

- ★ ★ NEW — Saudi Arabia, Turkey, and Pakistan signed a mutual-defense "Mecca" pact on Aug 7 (an attack on one is an attack on all) — a structural, deterrence-oriented development that nonetheless raises the tail-risk ceiling given Pakistan's nuclear status if Saudi Arabia is drawn further into the conflict.
- Aug 7-8 — Iran announced what it calls a finalized agreement with Oman on Hormuz shipping, banning American and Israeli vessels and fining violators up to 20% of cargo value (IRNA state media, corroborated by Fortune, NPR, Al Jazeera, Bloomberg) — Washington explicitly rejected these terms (NPR, Al Jazeera), insisting on zero tolls, permits, or approvals. The fundamental fee/sovereignty dispute is unresolved, not narrowed. This claim's specific draft terms trace to Fars News (Iranian state media, citing one parliamentarian) and should be labeled Iran-sourced, not independently verified.
- Correction: Trump's Aug 2 "perimeters of a deal" framing was contested by his own later remarks. Two days after claiming "the perimeters of a deal has been agreed to," Trump called Iranian leadership "unbelievably duplicitous," and Iran denied direct talks had even resumed — treat the Aug 2 claim as rhetoric outpacing substance, a pattern that recurred all week (positive announcements paired with continuing attacks or contradictions within 1-2 days each time).
- Brent held a $82-86/bbl range through the week — up modestly, not pricing a resolved crisis.
- BTC closed at $65,006.64 on Aug 8 — essentially flat vs. Aug 7's close of $65,000.00.

Carried forward from Aug 1-7 (still load-bearing):

- ★ Aug 7 — the Iran-Oman joint statement remained unsigned as of that check, still in final drafting. Iran's Foreign Ministry spokesman Baghaei described the statement outlining agreed points as under review and finalization, "provided certain third parties do not obstruct the process."

Carried forward from Aug 1-6 (still load-bearing):

- ★ Aug 6 — Iran and Oman reached an "understanding in principle" on the Hormuz route map. Iran's Deputy Foreign Minister Kazem Gharibabadi told IRNA: "an understanding in principle has been reached on almost all the raised issues, including the map for maritime traffic entry and exit routes" — confirmed by Bloomberg (two articles), CBS, Al Jazeera (two articles), Euronews, and Military.com.
- ★ Aug 6 — the fee dispute first surfaced as the remaining obstacle. Iran is seeking fees of 5-7% of cargo value from transiting ships; Oman is discussing fees around 3%; Washington wants zero fees. Eight shipping-lobby groups are already protesting the plan; Jerusalem Post separately reports sources saying the proposed passage deal is "not feasible for shipping industry."

Carried forward from Aug 1-5 (still load-bearing):

- ★ Aug 1 — the first quiet night in days. globalsecurity.org's day-by-day war tracker reported no new US strikes on Iran overnight Jul 31 following the heavy Jul 29-30 wave; Brent fell ~2% on the pause. Separately, a Saudi-led Multinational Maritime Defense Alliance for Gulf/Red Sea shipping protection was reported drawing backing from 14 countries.
- ★ Aug 1-2 — fresh, multi-source-corroborated attacks on Hormuz shipping. Bloomberg: a Qatari LNG tanker (Gaslog Shanghai) was struck while transiting the Strait. UKMTO/globalsecurity.org: a separate tanker was hit by an unknown projectile off Oman's Musandam Peninsula, its engine room damaged and the vessel disabled. These directly contradicted the Aug 1 "quiet night" framing — the pause was not durable.
- Aug 2 — the Saudi-led naval coalition kept solidifying. Al Jazeera, The National, DefenseMirror, and Tribune reported 14 confirmed member countries and 43 nations represented at a first coordination meeting in Riyadh — a genuine structural de-escalation-adjacent development, distinct from any single day's attack-or-lull headline.
- ★ Aug 4 — Trump canceled a planned joint US-Israeli strike on Iranian energy infrastructure. Multiple outlets (NPR, Axios, Al Jazeera, NBC, Washington Times, Breitbart, JPost, Townhall, CNN) reported the cancellation came after "the perimeters of a deal" were agreed over the Aug 1-2 weekend, reportedly including a full Strait of Hormuz reopening. No US strikes on Iran proper have been reported since the cancellation.

- Aug 4 — Iran continues to deny any direct US talks. Foreign Ministry spokesman Baghaei: "we currently have no negotiations with the United States; the negotiations are with Oman." Trump responded by calling Iranian leadership "unbelievably duplicitous."
- ★ Aug 4 — a bulker was struck by a projectile and suffered a full blackout in the Strait (globalsecurity.org, iransitrep.com) — active attacks continued even as the diplomatic framework was said to be forming.
- ★ Aug 5 — the first public terms of a 60-day interim Hormuz deal. Axios, Deccan Chronicle, Israel Hayom, InvestingLive, The National, and Al-Quds report the US, Iran, and Oman nearing an arrangement: inbound traffic via a northern lane in Iranian waters, outbound via a southern lane in Omani waters, no tolls or transit fees during the interim period, and a plan to clear naval mines from the median lane within 30 days. The US aimed to announce the deal Aug 6.
- Aug 5 — still unsigned. CNN quotes a Gulf official putting the odds of an Iran-Oman deal by Friday at only 50-50. The Strait remains formally impassable to normal traffic pending finalization.
- BTC closed at $64,661.55 on Aug 5 — up ~1.7% from the $63,579.68 close on Jul 31, continuing its resilience through a week where the war's own risk signal moved both up and down.

Carried forward from the July 30 full refresh (still load-bearing):

- ★ The lull was real, then it broke: Iran's IRGC struck a US/CENTCOM base at Muwaffaq Salti, Jordan (Jul 28). Confirmed by 5+ independent outlets (Al Jazeera, CNN, Axios, RT, JPost) — ballistic missiles/drones, described as a "surprise attack," all intercepted by US/Jordanian defenses, zero US casualties. This came after a genuine 2-3 day pause in CENTCOM strikes (Jul 25-27) and on the same day Trump was publicly touting "very friendly" talks with Netanyahu at the White House — both things happened.
- ★ The US retaliated with a "heavy wave of strikes" (Jul 29) — explosions reported at Bandar Abbas, Kish Island, Qeshm Island, and Khuzestan Province (CNN). Trump: "it's our turn to hit them." CNN's Jul 30 live coverage explicitly frames this as "US renews strikes on Iran as widening war pulls in more countries."
- ★ NEW FRONT — Iraq: US and Saudi Arabia conducted joint strikes on Iran-backed Popular Mobilisation Forces across Iraq (Jul 29), CENTCOM-confirmed, hitting sites in Baghdad, Wasit, Nineveh, Basra, Kirkuk, Karbala, and Diyala — 20 killed, 32 wounded (Al Jazeera, CBS News, Foreign Policy, 5+ outlets). Iraq's government called it a "flagrant violation of sovereignty." This is Saudi Arabia's first turn as a direct co-belligerent in this war. A claim that "six Iranian IRGC advisors" were also killed is single-source (unnamed Iraqi militia officials) — flagged, not used.
- ★ NEW FRONT — Egypt: a drone hit a US-owned FSRU vessel and a tanker at Egypt's Damietta port (Jul 29) — the first strike on Egyptian soil in this war (Al Jazeera, CNBC, Times of Israel). Fire contained, no injuries. No group has claimed responsibility; Houthis explicitly deny involvement — attribution remains unresolved.
- Brent rebounded from the lull-low. Brent fell to ~$90/bbl (-6.7%) during the Jul 25-27 lull, then rose back to ~$92-93/bbl by Jul 30 (+~3.5% day-over-day, +24.6% month-over-month) on the renewed strikes and widening war (Fortune). A previously-circulated "$87.53" figure could not be corroborated and is dropped from this report.
- Iran continues rejecting a direct-talks framing even as Trump claims progress. Iran FM spokesman Baghaei, Jul 27: "We have no negotiations with the United States at present" — directly contradicting Trump's public claims of productive talks. A regional 10-day ceasefire proposal (Qatar/Egypt/Oman/Pakistan) remains on the table, unaccepted; Iran separately rejected an Oman joint-Hormuz-management proposal on Jul 28, insisting on controlling its own lane.
- Congress split on competing War Powers resolutions (Jul 23, carried forward, no new action since): House passed a nonbinding one 214-208 (4 GOP defectors); the Senate's binding one failed 49-47.
- ★ The Pentagon casualty-count dispute (18 vs. 14) is confirmed stale, not a fresh Jul 30 event. The DCAS toll briefly rose to 18 (Jul 23) then reverted to 14 (Jul 24) amid a credibly-sourced dispute (NYT officials, Rep. Massie on record) over whether the reversion dodges the 90-day War Powers clock. This is the same dispute already logged last cycle — one daily touch this week re-cited the Jul 24 CNBC article as if it were new; it is not.

- Strait of Hormuz remains effectively closed to normal commercial traffic — ~10 transits/day versus a normal baseline near 88/day (IMF PortWatch), unchanged from prior cycles. IRGC, Jul 30: the Strait "will remain closed."
- No formal MoU withdrawal by either side. The 60-day window to ~Aug 16 remains intact and un-triggered.
- Israel remains out of direct engagement — no confirmed direct Israel–Iran exchange since June 7–8; the widened fronts (Iraq, Egypt) involve the US, Saudi Arabia, and unclaimed actors, not Israel.
- The "Layla" tanker claim (Jul 23) remains unconfirmed after a full week — AIS data dark, no primary confirmation found. Downgraded from "watch" to "discard pending new evidence."
- The baseline (still true, still load-bearing): June 2025 "12-Day War" — BTC dipped to a ~$98,225 intraday low, reclaimed $107k+ within days, a fast V. The far larger 2026 war still hasn't crashed crypto on Iran-specific grounds — BTC closed at $64,706 on Jul 30, even as the conflict spread to two new countries this week.

The Prize

Illustrative only — not price targets, not advice

The upside is still the "buy-the-invasion" rebound. Anchors: Russia–Ukraine (Feb 24, 2022) — BTC fell ~8% to a ~$34,300 intraday low, posted a +14.5% up-day on Feb 28, ended ~+25–29% above the low within a week (~+38% by late March). June 2025 rhymed: ~$98k dip, fully recovered within a week.

Araqchi's "very close" comment remains the most positive-sounding rhetoric on the table — but the deal is still unsigned as of Aug 11, and a fresh Houthi strike on Saudi oil infrastructure (Jazan, Aug 9) is a reminder the shooting hasn't stopped. BTC closed at $64,355.00 on Aug 11, -1.1% vs. Aug 10 — a tape-wide pullback, not an Iran-specific reaction, even as this pillar's own signal stays the worst 1-month reading in the matrix. If a fee/compensation/sovereignty compromise both sides actually accept gets signed and holds — and holds through a full week without a new tanker attack, not just a quiet news day — the upside case shifts from "the market shrugs off the next attack" to "a full corridor reopens and the risk premium currently priced into Iran's near-term signal unwinds for real" — a bigger, more durable prize than another muted-reaction data point. Still thin and still unsigned — Iran's demands (a US/Israel vessel ban, cargo fees, compensation) keep growing rather than narrowing toward what Washington will accept; the Prize doesn't feed the math — it tells you what the lean is worth acting on.

The Other Side

The strongest honest case this is wrong

- The correction itself might still be too small. Five tanker attacks in a week plus a strike on a fourth country (Saudi Arabia) is a genuinely worse pattern than a 4-point 1mo cut implies — a stricter read of "the war is actively widening, not stabilizing" could justify a larger move than this report is taking.
- Iran just publicly proposed terms Washington immediately rejected — that's a real gap opening, not closing. A ban on US and Israeli vessels plus 20% cargo fines is not a starting point for compromise with a US administration insisting on zero tolls and total freedom of navigation; if this is Iran's actual negotiating position, "close to a deal" may be badly overstated.
- The pattern all week has been progress-then-complication, and this cycle's own correction proves it. Aug 1's quiet night gave way to Aug 2's tanker attacks; Aug 4's canceled strike came with a bulker attack the same day; Aug 6's route-map understanding came with a fee dispute the same day; Aug 7-8's "finalized agreement" claim came with explicit US rejection and, this full-weekly review reveals, a fourth country coming under attack the same week. Each positive signal this pillar has scored has arrived paired with a negative one — treat that pattern, not any single day's headline, as the base rate.

- The new Saudi-Turkey-Pakistan defense pact could itself be read as escalatory, not stabilizing. A mutual-defense treaty involving a nuclear power (Pakistan) raises the theoretical ceiling on how bad this could get if any signatory is drawn into direct conflict — this report treats it as net-neutral/deterrence, but a bear case would weight the tail risk higher.
- Iran's state media announcement is not a negotiated agreement. A one-sided IRNA statement describing terms the other party rejects is not the same as a ratified, bilateral, government-binding agreement — prior cycles in this war have seen official statements walked back or superseded within days.
- Thin sample, still. The bullish long-term read rests on a handful of dip-and-recover events, all in a bull regime — geopolitical shocks don't always V-recover, and a route map with an unresolved fee dispute and a widening conflict is not obviously more durable than any of the prior lulls that broke within days.

The Triggers

Dated events ahead — some prove the claim right, some prove it wrong. Re-leveled August 11, 2026, light daily touch.

DATE	EVENT	MEANS
Fired Aug 9, found Aug 11 — continuation, not escalation	Houthi drone strike on Saudi Aramco's Jazan refinery (400,000 bpd) — no injuries, fire extinguished same-day (NBC, Al Jazeera, CBC, NPR, UPI, Al Bawaba)	Comparable to the Aug 8 ADNOC tanker hit — held flat, no P move, but a genuine miss by the Aug 10 daily check
Checked Aug 10-11 — no development found	Direct re-check of the Hormuz deal status finds no signing beyond the "final drafting stage" framing	Consistent with the Aug 9-10 baseline — held flat, no P move
Reported Aug 8-9 — continuation, not escalation	Iranian FM Araqchi calls the Oman deal "very close" but adds a US-compensation demand; UAE reports another ship hit; Oman condemns "repeated attacks"	Consistent with the Aug 8 baseline — held flat, no P move
Jul 31 - Aug 5 — CONFIRMED, negative, missed by daily checks	Five separate Hormuz tanker/shipping incidents (Gaslog Shanghai, Oman-side explosion, Minoan Pioneer, two Kumzar explosions) — IMO tally now 65 incidents since the war began	Drove the Aug 8 1mo/3mo cut — already IN the committed baseline
Fired Aug 7 — CONFIRMED, negative, new front	Iran-backed Houthi forces struck Najran, Saudi Arabia, wounding 11 civilians — the conflict's first widening to a fourth state	Contributed to the Aug 8 cut — already IN the committed baseline
Pending — the real trigger	Whether a fee/compensation/sovereignty compromise both Iran and the US can accept is actually signed AND holds through a full week without a new tanker attack	Resolved, signed, and durable = re-rate up meaningfully; talks stall, Iran's demands keep growing, or attacks continue = re-rate down further
Structural, ongoing	Saudi-led Multinational Maritime Defense Alliance plus the new Aug 7 Saudi-Turkey-Pakistan mutual-defense pact	A genuine de-escalation-adjacent structural development, but the pact also raises tail risk given Pakistan's nuclear status
By ~Aug 16, 2026	Formal MoU withdrawal or 60-day window expires unsigned (not fired)	Diplomacy dead — re-rate 1/3/6-month down
By Dec 31, 2026	Final US–Iran nuclear deal signed — not fired, pending	De-escalation confirmed — re-rate up across windows

The flip line, re-leveled: a confirmed new US combat death, a resumption of direct US strikes on Iran proper, the conflict widening to a further new state, or a sustained Brent close above $100 = treat the dip-buy thesis as broken. As of Aug 8 we are not past that line, though the Najran strike is the closest this pillar has come to a further-widening trigger without fully tripping it. The equivalent upside flip: a signed Hormuz agreement the US actually accepts — not just Iran's own announced terms — that holds past a full week without a new shipping attack. Nothing so far has cleared that bar.

My Decision

✓ COMMITTED — AUGUST 11, 2026 (LIGHT DAILY TOUCH) · STAMPED BY ALEX (AUTO-STAMPED)

Committed P: 20 / 28 / 41 / 56 / 77 · My Weight: 20% (equal) · Impact: 8 (uniform)

Held flat for a third straight day. Today's research surfaced a fact the Aug 10 check missed — a Houthi drone strike on Saudi Aramco's Jazan refinery on Aug 9, no injuries, fire extinguished same-day — but judged it a continuation of, not an escalation beyond, the deteriorating, unsigned picture the Aug 8 full-weekly correction already priced in (five tanker incidents, the Najran strike, Iran's rejected one-sided terms). The Hormuz deal itself remains unsigned. Held flat pending either a signed agreement or a development that clearly exceeds the Aug 10 baseline.

1-year and 3-year held unchanged — the longer-horizon case (war exhaustion, allied diplomatic pressure via the Saudi-Turkey-Pakistan pact) is structurally unchanged.

Still a dip-watching pillar, not a panic-selling one. The real test is still ahead: whether a fee/compensation/sovereignty compromise both Iran and the US can accept is actually signed AND holds. The real risk paths — a confirmed new US combat death, a resumption of direct strikes on Iran proper, the conflict widening further, or Brent sustaining a close above $100 — remain unfired.
